

Wedding Questionnaire

Getting to know you

I am really looking forward to learning your love story and getting a feel for your vision of your perfect ceremony.

Here are some light hearted questions that I find help to open up our “getting-to-know-you” conversation.

You don't have to answer every question, just those that resonate with you.

Inspiration for your Vows

Here is a suggestion: don't fill out the questionnaire together!

Why not each fill it out separately, truthfully and without influence?

No matter how long you have known each other, I bet there is a little something that you don't know, that is revealed by your answers! After all, we are always changing; relationships are always evolving.

Be inspired by the honesty of discovery – write down what you feel as your partner reads out their answers to you.

Let your vows evolve organically.

Have your questionnaire close by when we Skype chat. Simple!
